The cotton market had some release yesterday from the infolerable gloom of the day before. Liverpool was firmer, with some strengthening in arrivals. New York recovered 1-16c of the 3-16c 1 st the day before. New Orleans had larger sales, 57,000 bales. In our market the better tone of the tele-grams, and the low quotations, aroused some nquiry, and there being plenty of cotton ac-sessible, the largest sale we have had since Monday week was made. The New York Bulletin, of Monday, reports a better tone in the market, and adds: "The statistical po-sition is thought to be gradually developing a asis for greater strength on values, and the light run of receipts commences to enter more generally into calculations." In its weekly eview, the Record reported, on Saturday, hat the week had been a very trying one on cotton; that Liverpool has been gradually sinking under the heavy weight of her stock and the free arrivals of cotton-haden vessels, and has not been able to give the least enement to those who wished to sustain Toward the middle of the week, a great deal of cotton was bought on the basis of parity, through the medium of future contracts, but as it was simultaneously thrown upon the arrival market abroad, the relief was not sufficiently genuine to impart any feeling of confidence. Durng the last two days the tendency has been may the last two days the tendency has been rather more hopeful, as the belief is gaining credence, that if the southern markets are only able to hold their own, the stock in New York will be gradually shipped by those who are standing on the intrinsic merits of the article itself, so as not to disturb the equilibrium of foreign markets, and the tone has become quite firm, as cotton has undoubtedly come quite firm, as cotton has undoubtedly assed into stronger hands. Manchester has the declining tendency of silver and East India exchange, but the demand for goods continues strong at the reduced rates. On her way to New Orleans on Monday morning it was discovered that during the night, and notwithstanding the presence of the night watchman, the desk of the steamer Eva had been rifled, and valuable letters, addressed to certain firms in that city in care of the boat, containing in all about fifteen hundred dollars, had disappeared. A fellow who had represented himself as penniless, and had been allowed free transportation on the boat, was suspected, and on arriving at New Or-leans was arrested charged with the robbery. The Golden Rule is due down from Cincinnati to-day with a full load. Captain O. P. Shinkle is in command, with Billy Shaw in the office.
